Spirited News in a Community of Faith

OCTOBER 2011 – Volume 11, Issue 10

Some comments as we plan for the support of 2012.

Three ministers were talking among themselves about the best way to figure out how much to give to God. One said he drew a circle on a piece of paper about the size of a beach ball and threw his money up in the air. Whatever fell outside of the circle was God's and the rest was his to do with as he pleased. The second minister used a similar idea. He used his Bible. After throwing his money up, whatever remained on top of the Bible was God's and the rest was his. The third minister said he just threw the money up in the air. He figured that whatever God wanted, God could keep, so whatever landed on the floor was his.

Pastors also struggle with how to handle our own stewardship just as you do. In the interest of disclosure, let me tell you how I have worked this through in hopes that it might be a help as you consider your own commitment.

I tithe. 10% of my take home income. There are obligations in life, and the continuing work of the congregations I serve are included in this. Heat, lights, worship materials, paychecks of those who work here including my own, and many more things, all need to be supported. The simplicity of this is that I can easily figure out this amount in my head, and I pay once a month. I have learned a few things about tithing. It is always easier if I write this check first. Let the "discretionary spending" come out of the leftovers. I also know that if I give this first, my thinking about the other 90% changes. I become a more careful manager of everything that God has given me. I have never met one person who has taken tithing on as a challenge that has found it to be a mistake. "There have been some pretty tight months, and sometimes we might have to budget a payment, but God has always provided enough," they will say. I have found the same thing.

I also know that God has given me much more than my take home amount would reflect. I look for opportunities to give more, especially for missions that I find meaningful to me. I love the thought that a $10 mosquito proof bed net in Africa may allow a child to grow to adulthood. Will they be the one to help lead the development of their nation? I support things like the Maasai Girls School, and World Hunger, and any number of other wonderful things. (When I look for socks for the homeless, I thank God that He created COSTCO.) This is when the giving becomes downright fun. I am learning to be a cheerful giver. Magnolia is a very generous congregation when it comes to various kinds of mission. Keep it up. I am honored by your generosity.

None of us learns how to do something by a simple infusion of information. It takes time, with a lot of steps along the way. We learn to master one level before we move on to the next. This happens in learning to manage the gifts that God has entrusted to us for our use. You are already at one step. I encourage you to think, pray, plan, and then take the next small step on the way.

May God bless you in your generosity.

Pastor Doug Stensby

"OUT OF THE DARKNESS"

by Pastor Kragthorpe

Whenever Pastor Krag – the usually conservative dresser that he is – comes to church wearing a t-shirt and a couple of strings of beads, as he did on October 2nd, you might guess he has been up to something. It all became somewhat clearer when he used the "Announcement Time" to explain.

Pastor Krag's extended family – the Binns's, Shelton's and Grimsby's – six of them afoot and pushing Mary in her wheelchair – had spent Saturday forenoon participating in the "Out of Darkness" community walk in support of the annual fundraising walk around Green Lake for the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention.

The extended family was walking in memory of their beloved Ben Shelton, who left us much too young two and a half years ago on Ash Wednesday night. The family members were joined by several of Ben's fellow machinists from the Belshaw firm. In all, 763 people participated in the walk, in memory of lost loved ones. Nearly $80,000 was raised, with "Team Benjo" among the top ten fund-raisers with more than $2,200 pledged.

Pastor Krag says that if he is still up to it next year, he will invite all of us to participate. Then we can ALL wear t-shirts and beads to church!

Stewardship

A message from the Congregational Council President

The traditional time for Stewardship in most Lutheran Churches is in October and November of each year.

The minute you say the word "Stewardship" you can see the wheels turning in the heads of all who heard the word. "Oh no we are going to talk about money again"!

Well yes, I guess we need to talk about it each year. No one likes it except GOD. The faith practice of making a regular financial offering to your congregation is grounded in a "first fruits" philosophy.

When we ground our giving in a biblical context, our financial generosity becomes an expression of our love for God, for our neighbor and for ourselves. We are new people in Christ: compassionate and eager to share. We give cheerfully because God has given us so MUCH.

You will be hearing more about our hopes for this year's Stewardship Celebration.

Much love, Linda

Committees

Meetings for various committees are being setup to plan for Fall activities. Watch for announcements and join a committee and help determine the future of Magnolia Lutheran. You can help out planning worship, taking care of our property, finances, social ministry, evangelism and fellowship.

Stewardship is more than just money—it includes our time as well.

Stewardship / Make it Simple!

from Celeste Stubbs

OCTOBER is stewardship month here at Magnolia Lutheran Church and this year we are using the "Make It Simple" program. This is the time when we are all asked to contemplate our gifts both monetary and spiritual that have the potential to grow our church. We can do this by following Jesus, acting together, facing the truth and sharing enough. This year we will be able to hear from members who will highlight different areas of service and areas of need, important to our church.

October 2 Following Jesus - Donna Hegstrom spoke about our social ministry programs and how we serve Christ through these programs.

October 9 Facing the Truth - Celeste Stubbs spoke to highlight growing our church as we minister to our community.

October 16 Acting Together - Dwight Dively will speak on finance and how it impacts our church.

October 23 Sharing Enough - Mary Langholz will highlight our worship life and how we might make it rich and beautiful by our service.

October 30 join us for a brunch between services at 9AM. Please bring your commitment card to the brunch so we may gather our Pledge gifts that say, "We thank you Lord for all that you have given us".

Please watch for the mailings and consider your gifts and how they can support the mission of our church locally at Magnolia Lutheran Church, our Northwest Washington Synod and the global outreach of the ELCA.

Women's Retreat!

What a beautiful weekend to be out the Great Outdoors at Camp Lutherwood where an active group of women from our church met to spend quality time together. The time was spent walking trails around the lake, shopping and visiting the quaint town of Fairhaven, Playing games, putting together puzzles, swimming in the lake, eating and bible study. Busy and quiet time was able to be had by all. Thank you to all the women who took the time away from their busy lives to join together and build a stronger and a more connected church.

Trivia Answer from Last Month:

Is there a Story in the stained glass windows?

Yes, the stained glass windows in the sanctuary have stories behind them. This month we'll begin with the windows on the east side.

The windows on the east side represent the "I AM" phrases in the gospels. Starting at the front:

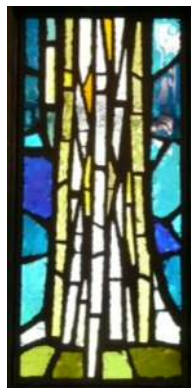

I am the DOOR—a door stands ajar revealing the bright gold and red designs of vitality, beauty, and excitement of life that opens through Jesus who is indeed the door.

I am the VINE—also the branches which must bear fruit achieved by abiding in Christ, to witness in word and deed to the love and grace of God.

I am the WAY, the TRUTH and the LIFE—the golden way or road of Christ parallels the brighter, light section supported by a blending of white and gold telling of the truth that Jesus Christ who walks the Way with us is God.

I am the BREAD—bread images are clear, but looking closely we see the cross design and the loaf is the corpus of the crucifix, bringing to mind the Last Supper, our heritage of the Eucharist.

I am the LIGHT of the world—a bolt of lightning illuminating the world could refer to our Lord's return or to Christ's glorious power and energy that floods the world. Actually, you are looking through a window and just catching a glimpse of Christ's vital light that floods into the world.

So there you have it. Watch for coming descriptions of the other stained glass windows around MLC. These descriptions were taken from the Dedication Service Booklet, written by Dr. Ernst Schwidder, who also designed and carved the altar, pulpit and baptismal font.

Trivia Question for this month:

Where is the "Creation" window?

MaaSae Lutheran Girls' School

From Heidi Carpine

A benefit for the MaaSae Lutheran Girls' School in Tanzania was held on Sunday, May 22, 2011. A total of $3,020.25 was collected and a $200.00 grant from our local Thrivent Chapter should be coming.

An additional $581.00 was collected from the sale of jewelry to benefit the women of Ketumbeine.

MLC would like to support two scholarships of $900 each for the MaaSae Girls' School. One for Rehena Mejodi and one for Zawadi Lemayani for their second year of school.

We would like to thank Jean Wahlstrom and Marvin Kananen, retired ELCA missionaries from Tanzania for their informative sermon and talk about the girls' school.

Many MLC members took part in preparations for this coffee hour including Kimberly Brangwin, Dorothy Friebrock, Deborah Moser-Donlen, Helen Kack, Elsie Simon, Alice Pease, Pastor Stensby, and Joy and Heidi.

UW CAMPUS MINISTRY

ALL ARE WELCOME AT GOD'S TABLE
"Come & See" — John 1:39

Lutheran Campus Ministry Sunday - October 30

We invite you to celebrate campus ministry Sunday on October 30. The day is a celebration of the two campus ministry sites we have in the Synod - the University of Washington in Seattle and Western Washington University in Bellingham. October 30th is a time to highlight this extension of our ministry with young adults, workers, and faculty involved in higher education.

October 30th is a natural day to recognize campus ministry. Martin Luther, credited with posting the 95 theses on the church door of the castle church in Wittenberg in 1517, was a Professor of Biblical Theology at the University of Wittenberg. He also became the first campus pastor. He had University students staying with him at his home after 1525 and discussed issues of the day and theology with students at dinner.

Take time on the 30th to reflect on this vital mission of the church. Pray and consider how you might help with campus ministry. One important contribution is to help with financial challenges facing campus ministry. Online donations can be made at www.uwlutherans.com.

Another important contribution is to help with serving meals once a month at Covenant House at the University of Washington. Meals are served on Wednesday evening and a special dinner is served on Thursday evening as we welcome Rev. Zenchaun Liu and students and visiting faculty from China. Please consider how you might help campus ministry. Your gifts will help with current members and future leaders of the church.

Get Your Own

One day a group of scientists got together and decided that man had come a long way and no longer needed God. So they picked one scientist to go and tell Him that they were done with Him.

The scientist walked up to God and said, "God, we've decided that we no longer need you. We're to the point that we can clone people and do many miraculous things, so why don't you just go on and get lost?"

God listened very patiently and kindly to the man. After the scientist was done talking, God said, "Very well, how about this? Let's say we have a man-making contest." To which the scientist replied, "Okay, great!"

But, God added, "Now, we're going to do this just like I did back in the old days with Adam."

The scientist said, "Sure, no problem" and bent down and grabbed himself a handful of dirt.

God looked at him and said, "No, no, no. You go get your own dirt."

Subject: Love this Doctor!

Q: Doctor, I've heard that cardiovascular exercise can prolong life. Is this true?

A: Heart only good for so many beats, and that it... Don't waste on exercise. Everything wear out eventually. Speeding up heart not make you live longer; it like saying you extend life of car by driving faster. Want to live longer? Take nap.

Q: Should I reduce my alcohol intake?

A: Oh no. Wine made from fruit. Brandy distilled wine, that mean they take water out of fruity bit so you get even more of goodness that way. Beer also made of grain. Bottom up!

Q: How can I calculate my body/fat ratio?

A: Well, if you have body and you have fat, your ratio one to one. If you have two body, your ratio two to one.

Q: What are some of the advantages of participating in a regular exercise program?

A: Can't think of single one, sorry. My philosophy: No pain...good!

Q: Aren't fried foods bad for you?

A: YOU NOT LISTENING! Food fried in vegetable oil. How getting more vegetable be bad?

Q: Will sit-ups help prevent me from getting a little soft around the middle?

A: Oh no! When you exercise muscle, it get bigger. You should only be doing sit-up if you want bigger stomach.

Q: Is chocolate bad for me?

A: You crazy?!? HEL-LO-O!! Cocoa bean! Another vegetable! It best feel-good food around!

Q: Is swimming good for your figure?

A: If swimming good for figure, explain whale to me.

Q: Is getting in shape important for my lifestyle?

A: Hey! 'Round' is shape!

Well... I hope this has cleared up any misconceptions you may have had about food and diets.

And remember:

Life should NOT be a journey to the grave with the intention of arriving safely in an attractive and well-preserved body, but rather to skid in sideways, tires and brakes smoking - Champagne in one hand, chocolate in the other - body thoroughly used up, totally worn out and screaming "WOO-HOO, what a ride!!"

AND...

For those of you who watch what you eat, here's the final word on nutrition and health. It's a relief to know the truth after all those conflicting nutritional studies.

1. The Japanese eat very little fat and suffer fewer heart attacks than Americans.
2. The Mexicans eat a lot of fat and suffer fewer heart attacks than Americans.
3. The Chinese drink very little red wine and suffer fewer heart attacks than Americans.
4. The Italians drink a lot of red wine and suffer fewer heart attacks than Americans.
5. The Germans drink a lot of beer and eat lots of sausages and fats and suffer fewer heart attacks than Americans.

CONCLUSION: Eat and drink what you like. Speaking English is apparently what kills you.
